

Partner special mentions

Semifinalist startups have access to partner special mentions:

SheTech:

- 2 membership fees for each female-led startup. Through this opportunity, individuals can join the SheTech community for 1 year and participate in networking, training and outreach activities to develop new skills and professional opportunities.

K&L Gates

- 5 hours of free legal counseling. Through this opportunity, founder(s) will benefit from an assessment, from a legal perspective, on key areas of concern and lay the groundwork for safely growing their business.

Carter&Benson

- A free management assessment will be offered to Founders (up to 3 people) of a startup to provide suggestions on personal and professional development in line with startup management. The service assesses hard and soft skills in relation to the current role and future goals, identifying areas for improvement and suggesting coaching or team building paths.

Alkemy

- Alkemy offers the semifinalist startups the opportunity to take advantage of exclusive spaces in its Milan, Rome and Turin offices. From January to June 2025, the rooms will be available by reservation, allowing them to work and network for free.

Mamacrowd

- Mamacrowd offers a fast-track path to access a capital raising on its portal www.mamacrowd.com to a seed stage startup.

Google

- Google offers a fast-track path to join the Google for Startup programme for the most deserving startups that meet the programme requirements. The selected startups will have access to Google's network for consulting on various topics (AI, digital strategy, cloud infrastructure, etc.) as well as consumption credits for the cloud infrastructure and all its use cases and modules.
